

PROGRESSIVE REVOLT IN ALDERMANIC FIGHT

Influential Men Resent Turning Down of Bolles, Who Helped Pass Taxi Law.

The action of the Progressive Designating Committee of the Twenty-fourth District in selecting Frank Mullen as the candidate for Alderman and allowing him to accept the Tammany endorsement has brought about a revolt in the Roosevelt organization. Patrick Ryan, former Ambassador to Chile, Ex-Assemblyman James A. Francis, Charles Dubois, Robert C. Hart, Leopold Wolf, William Grier, Charles C. Jeffrey, Samuel Weiner, Edward H. Grant and other prominent enrolled Progressives of the district have come out for Alderman John A. Bolles, the Republican candidate, and are advocating his re-nomination and re-election.

Alderman Bolles was a member of the committee that framed the new taxicab ordinance. During his official career he has been on the side of the public in every crisis in the Board. His services in aid of The Evening World's campaign against taxicab extortion were continuous and valuable.

Nevertheless he was refused the endorsement of the Progressive Designating Committee of his district, which picked Mr. Mullen. And Tammany Hall promptly endorsed Mr. Mullen. An effort is being made to override the action of the Progressive Designating Committee in the primaries by substituting on the Progressive ballot the name of Mr. Bolles for that of Mr. Mullen.

The description of Mr. Bolles by the Progressives looks suspicious in view of the powerful efforts that are being made by the taxicab monopoly to nullify the taxicab ordinance. It is reported that Aldermen who will vote for the repeal of the ordinance are to be given valuable assistance in their campaigns.

Thirteen Cuts Kill 241 Hens.
LAURENCEBURG, Ind., Sept. 15.—Eugene Barrett, a retired merchant, had a quantity of corn stored in a warehouse that was a refuge and feeding place for the rats. Jay Cook or North Vernon shipped a cage of thirteen Angora cats. Mr. Barrett turned the cats loose in the building and began moving the corn.

"NOW, I'm Going to Get a Webster!"

"Yes, sir! I've made up my mind to that. I never felt like paying $15 or $20 for a big Webster, but to-day they're starting a Special Introductory Sale here of Webster's Revised Unabridged—the whole works, at only $3.50. And to-night there's going to be one of them on this table.

"You know, I haven't opened a dictionary for so long that I'm ashamed of myself. And it's hurting me, too. I'm going back. Fellows come in to see me at the office and talk along freely and easily—use words I don't even know the meaning of—pronounce them properly—and I—well, I'm tired of it, and I'm going to get a Webster."

Introductory Sale of Webster's Revised Unabridged Dictionary at $3.50

$3.50. Just think of that! $3.50 for a Webster's Dictionary—and the new Webster's Revised Unabridged at that! It's the chance of a life-time to get so important a book at a price you want to pay. And you'd better lose no time in tearing off the certificate below and ordering yours. Remember, the certificate saves you $1.50.

Webster's Revised Unabridged is one of the celebrated series of Webster's published by the G. & C. Merriam Company since Noah Webster died in 1843. And whenever you buy a Webster, you want to be sure that it's a Merriam Webster. For Merriam Webster have always been recognized as the best—used in our public schools, colleges and universities for 70 years—and accepted as the highest authorities by our courts, State and Federal, and by the United States Government. A Merriam Webster means the best Dictionary that you can buy. Look for the G. & C. Merriam name inside, and for the circle trade-mark on the cover.

You Get a Webster, too—yes, YOU!

Doesn't matter how well educated a man is, he ought to have a Dictionary in his home—and a good one, too. You have to keep up with your language, you know. And almost every day something new comes up. A new word, or a new meaning of a word you thought you knew—or a word you don't know how to pronounce. And you know from experience how embarrassing it is to have to show your ignorance of those things.

And then, there's your wife. She has a little pride, too—just don't forget that. She doesn't like to have to say—"What do you mean by that?" when one of her friends uses a word she doesn't know. She likes to be well posted. And she wants people to say of her—"Isn't she a charming woman to talk to? Talks so well."

But she can't do it without a Webster to help her keep up-to-date.

And even more important are the children. You want them to have the best education you can give them. Your boy's success depends largely on what you put into his head NOW. And there's nothing more important in his whole education than teaching him EARLY in life—HOW and WHEN to use a Dictionary. Get him going to Webster instead of coming to you—and you have done more for him than his teachers ever can.

So, get a Dictionary—a Webster, of course—one that you'll keep on the library table and USE—one that the kiddies can use, too. This new Webster's Revised Unabridged is dandy for home use. Costs you just $3.50 during this Introductory Sale—and it's as easy to buy as this newspaper was.

You just tear off the Introductory Certificate below, drop into one of the stores mentioned and make your choice, and by the time you get home tonight, your new Webster will be there. No bother at all—and you'll never regret the few minutes' time and the $3.50 it cost you.

Webster's Revised Unabridged Dictionary At $3.50

is a thorough reconstruction of the celebrated Unabridged—for so many years the recognized authority on the English language. And for home use or for the office, for your personal use or for the kiddies, it's just the Dictionary you'll want to own.

A mighty well-made book—2120 pages—measures 9x11x4 1/2 inches—printed on fine paper—with a law buckram binding that will stand the hardest usage that children can give it.

There's hardly a question you can put to it but what you will get the answer. For with a complete Dictionary, giving the orthography, pronunciation, etymology and definitions of the words in the English language, old and NEW, there's a Gazetteer that gives the names, most important facts, and the most recent statistics of over 25,000 places—a dictionary of foreign names, quotations, proverbs and expressions—tables of weights, measures, coinages, etc.—many fine color plates, superb half-tone pictures and over 5,000 illustrations.

It's more than a mere Dictionary. It's a library—a complete library of knowledge, written by experts in every line of study. And at this startlingly low price of $3.50 you simply can't afford NOT to own one of the new Webster's Revised Unabridged Dictionaries.

Get yours to-day. This sale isn't going to last long—and the minute it's over, the price goes up to $5. You save $1.50 if you act at once. So tear off that certificate and get your order in early. You don't have a chance to get a Webster's Unabridged at $3.50 every day, you know, and there's going to be a rush when the sale opens.

Important

Webster's Revised Unabridged in law buckram is one of the most serviceable Dictionaries ever published. But for home use, especially where there are children who will want to move the book freely and consult it often, you very likely will prefer the Bible paper edition. This is a much handier book—lighter—thinner—easier to pick up and use—a book that doesn't look too big and imposing for the kiddies—and a book that you can keep in your lap while you're reading and save having to get up every time you want to know what a word means. And it's a mighty fine book from the book-maker's view. Just 2 1/2 inches thick—printed on the finest, tough, opaque Bible paper—with semi-flexible covers. Comes in handsome cloth binding at $6.00, and in fine leather at $7.00. And, by the way, that leather binding is a beauty. Get the clerk to show it to you. And remember, the certificate saves you $1.50 on any binding.
